ANTONIO LOTTI
(1667 - 1740)

In my trouble I cried to the Lord: and he heard me. O Lord, deliver my soul from wicked lips, and a deceitful tongue: What shall be given to thee, or what shall be added to thee, to a deceitful tongue? The sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals that lay waste. Woe is me, that my sojourning is prolonged! I have dwelt with the inhabitants of cedar. My soul hath been long a sojourner. With them that hate peace I was peaceable: when I spoke to them they fought against me without cause.

Vulgate Psalm 119

Source: Venice, Procuratoria di San Marco, B 774/1-16, a set of part books dating from the 1730s (which also include a four-part setting of the Requiem mass). Note values have been halved and the music presented at original pitch. The organ part has been expanded from the bass continuo part.
